Our Amara Bark is born when the precious bark of our PGI Red Orange trees meets the special infusion of wild herbs from Etna, Amara Bark embodies the love for our orange groves, a bitter full of intense hints of wood. When we prune the orange trees in the summer, we take the bark from the strongest branches to obtain sap-rich wood that we leave to rest for six months. Amara Bark is produced in small quantities with a slow, artisan process that enhances the fragrances of the Etna agricultural countryside.
